Edith B. Storey Elementary

Edith Barnett Storey (April 30, 1901 - July 23, 1991) devoted her life to the education of children. Her distinctive career in the Fresno Unified School District spanned from 1922 to 1970. Not only was she an exemplary teacher of children, Mrs. Storey also trained student teachers and prospective principals. During World War II, in the year 1944, she taught illiterate soldiers at Hammer Field (now the site of Fresno Air Terminal). Edith Storey was appointed director of Child Care Centers in the district, the first woman in California to fill such a position.

Mrs. Storey was active in many civic organizations and was instrumental in the restoration of the Meux Home. At the time of her retirement, Edith Storey had served the district longer than any other employee.
